5.13-21

I write these things to you who believe in the name of the Son of God, that you may know that you have eternal life. And this is the confidence that we have toward him, that if we ask anything according to his will he hears us. And if we know that he hears us in whatever we ask, we know that we have the requests that we have asked of him.

If anyone sees his brother committing a sin not leading to death, he shall ask, and God will give him life—to those who commit sins that do not lead to death. There is sin that leads to death; I do not say that one should pray for that. All wrongdoing is sin, but there is sin that does not lead to death.

We know that everyone who has been born of God does not keep on sinning, but he who was born of God protects him, and the evil one does not touch him. We know that we are from God, and the whole world lies in the power of the evil one.

And we know that the Son of God has come and has given us understanding, so that we may know him who is true; and we are in him who is true, in his Son Jesus Christ. He is the true God and eternal life.

Little children, keep yourselves from idols.

Great title, don't you think? It's an academic book. No, I don't recommend it for devotional reading. The book speaks to what is taken for granted today but was hotly contested then.

Confessing Jesus as "God" was thought blasphemous in some religious circles. Worshipping a Galilean carpenter, itinerant rabbinic nationalist rabble-rouser, executed for sedition by lawful authority, was just crazy.

Within 150 years of His death Jesus was proclaimed as King of kings and Lord of lords by His followers. In time all creation will acknowledge the supremacy of Jesus. The journey of Jesus from fringe figure to Son of God first took place among His first followers. We are their heirs. We live in their shadow.

What shadow will we cast?

Missions Memo

Praise the Lord for the Camp Hickory Hill focused In-Gathering, the purchase of the needed bunk bed mattresses and the turn out of PCC families yesterday to paint bunk beds and change out the mattresses. Keep Camp Hickory Hill in your prayers as they prepare for their summer camper program. Expectations are for a strong turnout as activities return to normal.
